CURRENT FUNDED RESEARCH

K23AG048632, 9/30/14-4/30/19

National Institute on Aging/American Federation for Aging Research

9.0 calendar $144,501

Anxiety with cancer in the elderly (ACE): A cognitive-behavioral intervention

Purpose: To develop and evaluate a cognitive-behavioral intervention for anxiety in older adults with advanced cancer and their primary informal caregiver.

Role: Principal Investigator

Change AGENTS Grant, American Federation for Aging Research, 5/1/16-10/31/17

$20,000 (Total budget)

Improving older adult cancer patients' access to psychological services: Convening older adults, family members, oncology providers, researchers

Purpose: To identify barriers to and facilitators of provision of evidence-based psychological treatments to older adults with cancer and develop recommendations for improving these patients' access to psychological care.

Role: Principal Investigator

Weill Cornell Medicine, Department of Medicine, 4/15/17 – 4/14/18

$50,000 (Total budget)

Using a web-based platform (Patient Activated Learning System) to improve distress management and knowledge of advance care planning in community based and racial/ethnic minority cancer patients

Purpose: To develop and pilot test two online video and text-based resources on distress management and advance care planning.

Role: Principal Investigator

Weill Cornell Medicine, Division of General Internal Medicine (Shen), 7/1/2017-6/30/2017

$35,000 (Total budget)

Using a web-based platform (Patient Activated Learning System) to improve knowledge of and confidence in completing advance directives and managing distress among racial/ethnic minority patients

Purpose: To develop and pilot test six online video and text-based resources on strategies for managing distress and completing advance directives.

Role: Co-Investigator

R01 MD007652 01A1 (Maciejewski/Prigerson), 9/25/14 – 5/31/19

National Cancer Institute

1.2 calendar $325,887

Latino Disparities in Cancer Research and Care

Purpose: To determine Latino- and American Indian-white disparities in participation in cancer research and EOL care and to develop and pilot culturally-tailored Latino and American Indian trust-building interventions.

Role: Co-Investigator

R35CA197730 (Prigerson), 8/1/15 – 7/31/22

National Cancer Institute

1.2 calendar $587,845

Psychosocial Approaches to Better Understanding & End-Stage Cancer Care (PROTECT)

Purpose: To support novel research to develop promising psychosocial approaches to improve the delivery of end-of-life cancer care.

Role: Co-Investigator

CURRENT UNFUNDED RESEARCH

Longitudinal examination of treatment and illness understanding, distress, and quality of life in indolent lymphoma patients

Weill Cornell Medicine, Lymphoma Program

Role: Principal Investigator

Advance care planning, distress, and quality of life in patients with advanced lymphoma

Weill Cornell Medicine, Lymphoma Program

Role: Principal Investigator

PENDING GRANT SUBMISSIONS

(October 2017 Submissions)

National Cancer Institute, R21, PAR-16-318 (Resubmission)

A communication-based intervention for advanced cancer patient-caregiver dyads to increase engagement in advance care planning and reduce caregiver burden

Purpose: To develop and pilot test an intervention that improves patient and caregiver prognostic understanding using theoretically grounded distress tolerance techniques and communication skills. The intervention is expected to increase engagement in ACP and reduce rates of futile aggressive end-of-life care.

Role: Multiple Principal Investigator

National Cancer Institute, R21, PAR-16-236

Using implementation science to improve access of older adult cancer patients and their caregivers to evidence-based psychological interventions

Purpose: To develop implementation strategies that account for identified barriers and facilitators to implementation of CBT interventions to OACs and OAC caregivers in academic and community cancer care settings.

Role: Principal Investigator

American Cancer Society, Pilot and Exploratory Projects in Palliative Care of Cancer Patients and their Families

Dyadic communication intervention to increase patient advance care planning

Purpose: To develop and pilot test an intervention that improves patient and caregiver prognostic understanding using theoretically grounded distress tolerance techniques and communication skills. The intervention is expected to increase engagement in ACP and reduce rates of futile aggressive end-of-life care.

Role: Multiple Principal Investigator

Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute, Eugene Washington PCORI Engagement Awards (LOI submission)

Engaging diverse stakeholders to improve implementation of evidence-based psychological interventions to older adults with cancer and their caregivers

Purpose: To build an informed stakeholder community that will develop strategies for implementing CBT interventions to OACs and their caregivers and engage in future research to evaluate the effectiveness of these strategies.

Role: Principal Investigator
